

Implementing Universal Design for Learning in the Postsecondary Classroom

Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a method of course design that allows all students to best utilize their strengths to learn required material.

Learn techniques to make your classes more accessible to all students.

Topics Include:

- Creating a universally designed syllabus
- Applying UDL principles to your physical classroom, class presentations, and class tools
- Using simple technology to implement UDL in the classroom
- Using the Smart Pen
- UDL vs. providing accommodations
- The effect of UDL on all students
- UDL success stories

First 65 registrants will receive a 4GB Livescribe Smart Pen—FREE!
$250 value

The Livescribe Smart pen records audio and links that audio to written notes (see www.livescribe.com)

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you require an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Jim Stachowiak in advance at 319-335-5280 or at james-stachowiak@uiowa.edu.

When: August 18, 2010
9:00 am–4:00 pm (Lunch provided)

Where: Iowa Memorial Union–Illinois Room

To register or for more information, contact Jim Stachowiak at 335-5280 or james-stachowiak@uiowa.edu